'Carmel Citizens' File Appeal

Stirred to action in the waning hours of the old year by oficers and directors of the Carmel Citizens' Committee, concerned voters filed an appeal at City Hall late Tuesday afternoon against the granting of a permit to Edgemere Cottages to expand two motel units while remodeling them.

Presented to City Clerk Hugh Bayless by Percy Wilson, a Citizens' Committee officer, the appeal was signed by thirty-nine Carmel residents and addressed to the City Council which will schedule a public hearing on the Edgemere matter when it meets next Wednesday evening. Ten days notice must be given to appellants in advance of the hearing date to be set.

Expressing his organization's endorsement of the appeal effort, Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN, Ret.), head of the Citizens' Committee, said:

"The Board of Directors of the Carmel Citizens' Committee supports the action of the civic-minded group of citizens who are presenting a petition to city authorities, appealing the action of the Board of Adjustments in granting an amendment to the use permit issued originally last spring to the Edgemere Cottages. This appeal is entirely in conformity with the position taken by the Citizens' Committee since the very beginning of 1968 and enunciated again and again ever since. The Citizens' Committee is wholly against motel expansion of any kind in the residential areas of Carmel."

"We, the undersigned, hereby register this appeal . . . against the decision of the Board of Adjustments of the Carmel Planning Commission in granting an amendment to the conditional use permit originally granted to the owners of the Edgemere Cottages—a motel in the residential area of Carmel on San Antonio street between 13th and Santa Lucia—to allow what is called remodeling of two Edgemere units.

"This amendment provides for the addition of 290 square feet of building coverage or floor area while doing what is called remodeling of two motel units which, incidentally, also provides for expansion of kitchen facilities and addition of dining room facilities.

"We believe that there should be no increase in number of lots, or number of units, and no increase in building coverage or floor area, at any of the recently legalized motels in Carmel's residential areas. We believe, furthermore, that many of the people who voted for the ordinance which legalized those residential-area motels, thought that the main point of that ordinance was that there would be no expansion of any kind, and no increase of any sort, ever allowed at those motels.

"We believe the Planning Commission was right the first time when it voted unanimously to refuse the Edgemere use-permit amendment, and that it was wrong the last time when it approved that use-permit amendment by a split 4-to-3 vote."

Following the unanimous Planning Commission rejection in November of the Edgemere request, the Edgemere owners had appealed to the City Council for a new verdict. While unanimous actions of Planning Commissions are rarely appealed and even more rarely reversed if they are appealed—the original Edgemere decision was reversed by the City Council early last month. The vote, surprisingly, was 4-to-1, and the Council ordered the Planning Commission to "reconsider" its first decision. Two weeks ago the Planning Commission did so, reversing its own original and unanimous disapproval of the Edgemere request, and—instead—approving that request by a 4-to-3 vote. It was this last action which Tuesday's citizen-appeal, asks the City Council to reconsider and reverse.

Among the signers of the appeal are the following couples:—

Admiral and Mrs. R. W. Hayler, General and Mrs. A. T. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Carvel Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Doolittle, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gross, and Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Norberg.

Individuals signing the appeal, included:

Arthur Strasburger, Jr., Magdelene Hinds, Barbara Wermuth, Percy Wilson, Elizabeth Zan, Willard B. Coons, Salie and Josephine Zane, Fern G. Brown, James Lebis, Douglas Taylor, Miriam V. Hagen, Ernest Mayan, Matthew J. Cooke, Ruth Marion McElroy, Dorothy Green Chapman, Ritter Holman, Bruce Grimes, Marie Bates, Speirs Ruskell, W. E. Crabtree, J. B. and James L. Tysver, and George Davis.

Twenty signatures were required to file the appeal, though nearly twice that number had actually signed during the two-day signature solicitation effort.

'Guys and Dolls' Socko Comedy In Studio Theater Revival

In the jargon of the show biz authority "Variety," the top accolade afforded any Broadway show, film, variety act or other entertainment is "Boffo."

Believe me, "Guys and Dolls" now playing weekends at the Studio Theater-Restaurant, is "BOFFO" in capital letters.

The reistering musical comedy has been ably staged by Dave Kirk, who has taken Frank Loesser's score and lyrics and the Jo Swerling-Abe Burrows book and put together a production that simply crackles with the pace of the comedy.

Throughout the production, there is not the slightest trace of letdown. The gags pop like a string of firecrackers, interrupted only by the songs.

Probably the top accolade I can offer "Guys and Dolls" is that the cast made me believe it.

Hal Lockwood as Sky Masterson is a perfect portrait of the big-time gambler—assured, unctuous and in command at all times. He

Auditions Set For Circle's New, Farce 'When We Are Married'

Auditions for the farcical romantic codedy, "When We Are Married" by Playwright J. B. Priestley, are announced by the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula.

The readings will take place on Monday evening, Jan. 6, in the Circle Theatre, Casanova, between 8th and 9th streets in Carmel, under the direction of Charles Thomas, the theatre's producer-director.

The Community Theatre productions are open to all residents and service men and women who wish to audition for acting roles or participate in back-stage activities.

"When We Are Married" winner of rave reviews in London, New York City and across this country is all about the respectability of the married state . . . to be or not to be puts 15 characters into a zaney furor through three acts.

Characters include: The youthful church organist, Gerald and his 20 year-old sweetheart, Nancy; Ruby Britle, teen-age slavery of very limited intelligence and Fred Dyson, cheeky young newspaper reporter with his "beery" news photographer friend, Ormonroyd.

All in the middle age bracket are: Alderman Helliwell and his wife, Maria, bouncing and pompous; Councillor Parker, tall, thin and conceited, with his quite vague wife, Annie; Herbert Soppitt, a neat little man, with his noisy wife, Clara.

Lottie is the painted lady of the town, no better than she should be. The mayor and the Reverend Mercer are self-important small town characters.

The action takes place in Clecklewyke, a town in England, about the turn of the century.

Apollo 8 Helped By Monterey Units

Two Monterey Peninsula scientific installations played a vital role in the success of the Apollo 8 trip to the moon and back.

The Comsat, (Communications Satellite Corporation's earth station at Cachagua, and the weather station at the Naval Postgraduate School, operated by Naval Fleet Weather Control, both furnished support that cleared the way for Apollo 8's successful splashdown.

Comsat was part of the tracking network that kept the Apollo 8 astronauts in constant contact with earth stations throughout the flight, and was a vital link in the television transmissions that reached the earth.

The Naval Postgraduate School weather station furnished data to Naval ships in the Pacific and to shore installations that determined the weather picture in the Apollo 8 splashdown area.

END OF THE LINES — Pacific Telephone linemen Vince Tomasello (left) and Don Schmidt remove the last of the utility poles at Carmel Knolls.

PT&T Buries Overhead Utilities In Carmel Knolls... Poles Gone

The utility poles have vanished from Carmel Knolls.

And so have the overhead wires that once brought telephone, power and cable TV to the residents of this fashionable community three miles from Carmel.

The utility services are still there, however.

But they're buried now, marking the first time in Northern California that a group of citizens shared the cost with utilities to remove aerial facilities and replace them with underground lines.

"Pacific Telephone, like most other utilities, nowadays place their lines underground in new subdivisions," explains Don Peters, PT&T manager for Monterey Peninsula.

"However, at the time Carmel Knolls was under development nearly a decade ago, the accepted practice was to erect poles and string wires."

But to the residents of Carmel Knolls, a utility pole a Monterey Cypress is not.

"Officers of the Carmel Knolls Property Association first approached PT&T and the other utilities in 1964," said Peters. "Not only did they have to work with the companies involved, but with, residents and government agencies as well."

By late fall of 1967, a new tariff was sanctioned by the California Public Utilities Corporation and the Carmel group was one of the first to proceed under the new ruling.

The tarriff said, in effect, that overhead utility plant could be undergrounded providing that 1) the applicants would provide underground supporting structures (trenching, manholes, conduit, etc.), and 2) the utility would provide the other facilities.

Previous to the new CPUC ruling, subscribers had to stand all costs if they wanted to underground overheead utilities.

The New Year will be a little more scenic this year at Carmel Knolls.

PG&E Market Outlook Sees Economic Upswing In 1969

Population, employment, personal income and taxable retail sales will rise moderately above 1968 record levels, PG&E believes.

Basically vital, the region could be afected by unforseeable national and international conditions.

The state's population will increase by 312,000, reaching an estimated 20,234,000 this year.

Median age of the total population — an important factor in business planning— wil drop to 28.1 by 1970, not as low as the 25 years often assumeed.

Housing construction will increase by 13% over 1968 in response to pent-up demand and greater acceptance of present interest rates.

Estimates are based on there being adequate money for financing.

Taxable retail sales in the 48-county PG&E area will rise an estimated 4.8% to a new record of $17.8 billion. A delayed effect of the 10% income tax surcharge is a factor in the estimate. Record sales of major gas and electric appliances by local dealers are forecast, totaling 1½ million units with a retail value of $390 million. Concerted PG&E advertising and sales programs will help dealers attain this business volume.

Piepenburg Speaks To Carmel Rotary

Light for communications, a futuristic plan to use stimulated light beams to transport telephone and video communications, will be discussed at the Carmel Rotary Club at its meeting on Jan. 8, 1969.

Dick Piepenburg of Pacific Telephone will report on and demonstrate the recently developed "Laser Beam." Piepenburg will also show how light might someday be developed to carry the world's commercial communications as well as high-speed video and data transmission.

Conger studied under the classical guitar duo Presti-Lagoya in France in 1966 and has taught in the Bay area.

Danner, who holds a Ph.D. in musicology from Stanford, has long interested himself in the music of the lute and the guitar. He studied the guitar with Len Williams of London and the lute with Stanley Buetens in California.

The concert covers the history of fretted instruments from the earliest days of the lute to contemporary art music for guitar and includes lute solos, lute duets, guitar solos, and guitar duets.

Due to limited seating at the Guitar Shop, reservations must be made by calling 624-2586.

Musical Comments

Flu Bug Fails To Spoil Concerts By Hidden Valley Musicians

By Margot Hyatt

In spite of deep inroads by the Hong Kong flu on both their featured soloists and their audiences, the Hidden Valley Music Seminar students and teachers covered themselves with glory in their weekend concerts at Sunset Auditorium.

Only Angel Romero, the youngest of the three sons of Celedonio Romero, head of the celebrated family of guitarists was able to appear on Saturday evening.

Nevertheless, his playing of the "Concierto de Aranquez" by the contemporary blind composer, Rodrigo, of Spain, created a mood which brought tears to the eyes of many in the audience.

The Bach Piano Concerto in D Minor took the place of the Vivaldi Concerto for Two Guitars. Dr. Michael Zearott played the difficult piano score while Romero led the orchestra of talented students for the highly appreciative audience.

Telegrams of regret from Marie Gibson and Thomas Paul were read at the opening of the Sunday evening concert. Fortunately they were able to replace Paul with bass singer James Tippey who sang so well in the recent performance of the "Creation" by the Monterey County Choral Society.

To everyone's amazement, a young 18-year-old tenor, Greg Wait of Modesto, one of the Hidden Valley Music Seminar students, was able to do a mature and faultless job of replacing the soprano part in Bach's great Cantata No. 140 "Wachet Auf," this on two days' notice.

They were joined by Stanley Plummer, concert violinist, and students Terry Row on the oboe, Randall Bare at the harpsichord, and Richard Dixon on the cello, as well as the rest of the orchestra and chorus, conducted by John S. Waddell.

As if this performance weren't enough, the second half introduced a brass choir playing music by Hindemith and Bach; a choral piece; the orchestra in Beethoven's "Egmont Overture" and his "Choral Fantasy," the sketch for his ninth symphony. (The music for Ravel's "Tzigane" never arrived).

This last was another big surprise, inasmuch as Dr. Zearott played the piano solo parts brilliantly, as well as conducted the orchestra and chorus.

The young voices were light and airy as they should have been and the orchestra, perfectly pitched and disciplined.

In the morning, a series of works for brass and chorale by Handel, Purvis, Victoria and others was given at the eleven o'clock service of All Saints' Episcopal Church where the young people had been rhearsing during the Christmas holidays.

It is a pity that more Carmelites were not present at these concerts. The overwhelming consensus would have been that somehow, some way, a permanent place must be found to house these musical seminars for some of the most talented young people of the nation.

The Traveling Hunters

David Hunter and his bride, the former Beth Whitmore, have been spending the holidays in London with her parents. Both David and Beth are members of the U.S. Airforce.

His father, Howard Hunter is a senior pilot with United Airlines.

Son Peter and daughter Elizabeth were at home for Christmas vacation from Principia College. Peter took OTC last summer in Pensacola, Florida.

Big Sur Babies

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Robertson of the Point Sur Light Station, Big Sur became parents of a baby girl, Valorie Lorene, Dec. 17 as did Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Davis, also of Point Sur, of Melissa Jean.

Twelfth Night Celebration

On Monday Jan. 6 at 8:30 p.m. at the Carmel Art Gallery on Dolores and Fifth, L'Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula will celebrate la fete des trois rois, or Twelfth Night.

Guest of honor will be Mr. Claude Batault, Consul General from France in San Francisco. Mr. Batault will speak to members only on "Today's France" in French.

Before the event, Mr. and Mrs. Batault will attend a dinner in one of Carmel's French restaurants. Hosts will be co-presidents Mmes. Sean Flavin and James Hathaway together with committee members.

Youth Leader to Be Heard By Carmel Women's Club

A refreshing and youthful point of view will be presented to the Carmel Women's Club by Carl Terzian who will speak on the subject, "Our Saving Grace—the American Square" at the regular monthly meeting on Monday, Jan. 6 at 2 p.m. in the Clubhouse.

A former dean and professor of political science at Woodbury College, Mr. Terzian has an impressive array of academic achievements to his credit. Recipient of a scholarship at the University of Southern California, he was graduated magna cum laude in political science and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. As student body president, he was called one of the 10 "most outstanding student leaders in America" and was twice listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities."

In 1958 the U.S. Department of State invited Mr. Terzian to travel extensively in Australia, Southeast Asia, the Middle East and Europe, explaining the American Way of Life to young and old. In 1960 he received a special Congressional appointment to participate in President Eisenhower's White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Active also in religious groups, Mr. Terzian is president of the Southern California Youth Leadership Foundation and serves on Gov. Reagan's Creative Citizenship Awards Committee. He is also a director of the Los Angeles Council of Churches and serves on the Church Council, the highest policy-making body in the American Lutheran Church where he represents the members in the six Western states of the South Pacific District. In December, 1967, he was recognized as Hollywood's "Layman of the Month."

At Monday's meeting, the president, Miss Ianthe Densmore, will preside and at the door to greet members and guests will be Mrs. Rhea M. Diveley and Mrs. Sinclair McClellan. The Pledge of Allegiance will be led by Mrs. R. M. McPherson. The speaker will be introduced by Miss Marion Eley, program chairman.

Mrs. Clare Appleby, Mrs. Greene Erskine, Mrs. Edmund Murphy and Miss Gretchen Wahl will preside at the tea tables following the meeting.

Christmas Eve Engagement Surprise

The announcement of the engagement of Donna R. Wods to James B. Hatlo came as no great surprise at a family dinner party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Wods on Christmas Eve.

The big surprise for Donna came at the end of the dinner when she was presented a diamond engagement ring by her fiance who is the son of Mrs. Harry R. Lusignan of Pebble Beach and the late Jimmy Hatlo, internationally famous cartoonist.

The ring had been searched for and purchased for him while Dr. and Mrs. Lusignan were travelling in Europe last year. Jim was working as a photographer and newspaper reporter here to pay for it.

The Lusignans were present at the engagement dinner, as were Donna's sisters, Leslie and Katherine.

No date has been set for the wedding since Donna has not yet graduated from Santa Catalina School for Girls. She plans to attend the University of Southern California where Jim is in his junior year as an English major. He is a graduate of Robert Louis Stevenson School.

Beverly Bray of Carmel was among the bridesmaids, and among the ushers were Charles Bourdeau, Larry's brother, and Stephen Curti, the bride's brother.

The couple left for Lake Tahoe following the reception. Both attended Monterey Peninsula College. Larry is continuing his education as a business major at Chico State College where they will make their first home.

Wendy Millard Married in New Mexico

The Santuario de Chimayo, a small adobe chapel built in the early 1700's at the foot of the Sangre de Cristo mountains in New Mexico, was the setting for the December wedding of Anne Wentworth Millard to Norman Cordoza Osorno.

Wendy, who spent part of her childhood in Carmel, is the daughter of Mrs. Nathaniel Alexander Owings of Big Sur and Santa Fe, and Malcolm Stuart Millard of Pebble Beach.

She attended the "Little Red Schoolhouse" south of Carmel when it was an elementary school, before going to Colorado Rocky Mountain School in Carbondale. She then attended Mills College and Colorado College at Colorado Springs.

After graduation, Wendy joined the Peace Corps, to work in Ecuador. Later she obtained her master's degree in sociology and anthropology at Adam State where she met her future husband.

Many young people from Adam State College in Alamosa, Colorado, drove to Santa Fe for the event.

Also attending the wedding and luncheon at "Festina Lente", the Owings' Santa Fe home, was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Everett L. Millard of Lake Forest, Illinois.

Norman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leandro C. Osorno of Maui, Hawaii.

Island Wedding

A recent wedding in the Hawaiian Islands was that of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter of Kona, Hawaii.

The new Mrs. Winter is the former Antoinette Moore who managed a Hawaiian shop in Carmel before moving to Kona. Mr. Winter is a retired Carmel watchmaker.

They were married in Kailua-Kona at St. Michael's Church.

Georganne Demarest Wed in Evening Ceremony At Church of the Wayfarer

Preparations for Georganne Demarest's wedding to John Ray Luster began several months ago when Georganne's mother, Mrs. Francis Frederic Demarest of Rancho Rio Vista, visited her daughter at the University of Hawaii where she and her new husband are students.

White cattleya and dendrobrium orchids for the bridal bouquet and pikake strands for the groom's buttonhole were flown over for the evening ceremony at the Church of the Wayfarer at which the Rev. Alexander C. Bryans officiated.

Given in mariage by her father, Georganne chose an ivory satin and Chantilly lace gown with chapel train. Her full length English silk illusion veil was held with two tiny satin bows.

Two of her classmates flew over to be in the bridal party, Miss Mary Warmoth of Carmel, her maid of honor and Miss Sheri Henn of Pacific Grove. Her two sisters, Penelope Marie and Margaret Louise Demarest completed the bridesmaids.

They wore ruffled high necked Victorian style blouses and royal blue velvet skirts with ice blue satin sashes and ribbons of the same color in their hair.

They each wore a cameo given them by the bride and carried nosegays of blue forget-me-nots and white flowers.

William Massey, John's football teammate, served as best man, and ushers included his brother Steven of San Diego, Clifford Ferris, Jr., of Monterey and Carl Frederick Weisendanger II of Carmel.

At the end of the reception at the bride's home, the couple exchanged dark green Maili leis with a kiss. Their honeymoon was spent in Carmel so that they could spend Christmas at home.

Present at the wedding were John's father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Luster of San Diego and his grandmother, Mrs. Helen Luster of Burlingame. Also present from Honolulu was Vimla Watumull.

Mary Lou Morse, Enamelist, Opens New Studio-Gallery in the Mall

by Louise Cook

Mary Lou Morse, enamelist, has recently opened her own studio gallery upstairs in The Mall on San Carlos Street.

Mrs. Morse uses much imagination in the various ways she handles this ancient medium for artistic expression.

Besides dishes and ash trays, she exhibits framed pictures in enamel on copper, sometimes in combination with mosaic.

Mrs. Morse has completed many commissions and has an impressive background in art education and experience.

Sculpture by Betty Davenport Ford is also shown in the Balcony Studio Gallery, all done in ceramic.

Mrs. Ford demonstrates a keen knowledge of animal and bird life. Her chunky "Wild Boar" is marvelously fierce. Her groupings of owls show an eye for good composition as well as technical and artistic skill.

There are decorative fish, an impressive "Anteater" and a lovely "Madonna and Child," all created in the ceramic medium.

Local Artist Joins Mexican Art Tour

Mrs. Madeleine Royle, accompanied by Mrs. Carrie Kelly, is among 60 members of the University of the Pacific's sixth annual Holiday In-Mexico Painting Workshop, instructed by the artist-teacher, Richard Yip, for the Christmas-New Year's Period.

Guest instructor of oil Painting this year is Lida Giambastiani.

Each year the members, driving from various parts of the country, join the painting class in colorful Guaymas in the state of Sonora.

The group paints on location around the picturesque Guaymas-San Carlos area, known the world over for its shrimp and sports fishing.

Among the painting sites are the interesting Guaymas harbor, the San Carlos beach yacht club and harbor with the well-known Teta de Cabras mountain, the colorful Guaymas plaza, Miramar Beach, Juarez Monument, and other equally beautiful scenes in the Guaymas region.

Mrs. Royle and Mrs. Kelly will join a festive Christmas group dinner and a beach party cook-out of the famous Guaymas shrimp.

An exhibit of the group's paintings will be held for the people of Guaymas at the Casa de la Asegurada, Guaymas, at the conclusion of the class.

The Pine Cone extends its heartfelt thanks to the artists, art organiations and local galleries for their support in 1968, support that helps us maintain the aesthetic quality of this page.

Carmel Museum of Art Had Busy 1968 According to Report

More than forty works came to the collection by donation or purchase during 1968.

During the year four regular exhibitions were prepared with catalogue by the Carmel Museum of Art, and one special exhibition, presented in cooperation with the Arts Coordinating Council of the Monterey Peninsula, the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art and the AAUW. This exhibition was the Hurschler collection of modern European tapestries.

The four regular exhibit titles were:

MYRON A. OLIVER (a one-man show)

THE MAGIC LENS OF DR. GENTHE (Photographic portraiture of important Monterey Peninsula people)

RAYMOND DABB YELLAND (A series of sketches done by Yelland in 1876 and 1879 of the Monterey Peninsula)

ROOTS OF THE CARMEL ART ASSOCIATION (Done in cooperation with the Association, investigating the origins and formative years of the Art Assn.)

The opening show for 1969 is THEODORE WORES, ARTIST IN SEARCH OF THE PICTURESQUE. Mrs. Betty Hoag prepared three of the catalogues, K. L. Seavey, curator, one.

The Museum had two guest lecturers during the year, Mr. Alfred Frankenstein, art critic of the San Francisco Chronicle, and Mr. Paul Mills, Curator of the Oakland Art Museum.

Three films were presented by the Museum during the period to augment the cultural activities of the community. These films were chosen for their artistic merit and because they filled a definite need within a community that lacks adequate facilities for the dance and for the presentation of major operatic works. The films shown the public were "Romeo and Juliet," a "Festival of English Films" and three Russian Operas.

In 1968 the Museum introduced music to its standard operation and in a series of four chamber concerts delighted the local audiences and proved the merit and worth of the continuation of such a program.

Both Seavey and Mrs. Hoag participated in extra-curricular activities of a professional nature. Mrs. Hoag represented the Arts Coordinating Council at a three day symposium on "The Arts and Society" in San Francisco, and also participated in the conference of California Historical Societies in Santa Ana, California.

Public Relations

One new staff member was added this year in the person of Miss Lynn Pearson who functions as public relations director and membership coordinator.

Miss Pearson started with the museum in June of this year and has found the response and interest of those she has contacted in regard to the museum's exhibitions and activities extremely rewarding.

Peninsula readers can look forward to articles on the Museum in coming issues of This Month Magazine, San Francisco Magazine, Sunset Magazine, Westways and California Home.

Miss Pearson also handled all publicity and special arrangements for the last film series presented by the Museum, three Russian operas, shown at the Village Theater in November, and is already working on the first film to be shown in 1969, "Dr. Faustus" with Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor, which will also be shown at the Village Theater this coming February.

'Man-Woman' Forum At MPC

"Man and Woman in Search . . . of Themselves and Each Other," a four session forum to be led by five well-known authorities in the behavorial sciences, will be conducted at Monterey Peninsula College on Tuesday evenings throughout January.

Designed to explore "the pressures of a changing culture on the man-woman bond," the program will include:

Dr. Lester A. Kirkendall, professor of family life, Oregon State University, in a discussion of "New Roles for Men and Women" Tuesday, Jan. 7.

Helen Colton, pioneer teacher of sex education for adults, in "My Search for Me," Tuesday, Jan. 14.

Rev. Lester Kinsolving, Episcopal worker priest and syndicated religion columnist, in "The Sexual Revolution and the New Morality," Tuesday, Jan. 21.

Dr. James V. Clark, professor in the behavioral science area, UCLA Graduate School of Business Administration, and his wife Frances C. Clark, private sensitivity training consultant, in a session entitled "Three's Company, Two's a Crowd," Tuesday, Jan. 28.

All sessions will run from 8 to 10 p.m. in the MPC lecture-forum building. On each Wednesday following a session, small groups formed of members of the forum audience will meet from 7:30 to 10:30 for "a free exchange of ideas." A small registration fee is payable in advance at the college community services office.

Children's Choir Serenades Taeuber

Haymo Taeuber, new conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, was surprised when the Children's Choir of the Church of the Wayfarer serenaded him at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club's Christmas Party Dec. 18.

They sang "Silent Night" in German accompanied by Roma Mazzeo on the guitar.

The song was originally writen in German and, first sung accompanied by guitar in Wagrain, Austria.

Since this is the first Christmas that Mr. and Mrs. Taeuber and their three childrn have spent in America, it was a thoughtful way of honoring the Austrian-born family.

Boys and girls in the choir are Brad Clark, Karen Campbell, Jodie Dixon, Patty Eyster, Andy Haslett, Betsy and Linda Lewis, Marilyn Paul, Lorene Kronholm, Sally and Nancy Rideout, Linda, Carrie and Laura Shook, Chuck Snyder, Cheryl Welchner and Wayne Wood.

Carmel Travelers

(This is the last of the Reuben Johnson letters. The Pine Cone thanks Professor and Mrs. Johnson and son Rod for the delightful and incisive comments on the countries they visited during Dr. Johnson's sabbatical.)

We are in Jerusalem and this is Easter Sunday. We arrived on Friday which is Good Friday so we saw the Pilgrimage.

It started at the court where Christ was sentenced by Pontius Pilate, down the steps and on to the different stations until the Pilgrimage ended at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre where the spot on which Christ was annointed is marked by a slab of marble.

Each group carried a wooden cross. At each of the stations along the way each group stopped to say a few words, chant or sing.

There were many groups representing all faiths. I walked with an English speaking group. Many pictures were taken of the processional for TV, the papers and other media.

The old city of Jerusalem is surrounded by high stone walls. There is a network of small streets with many small shops. I was disappointed in the commercialization of the area—the many beggars, and children asking for money. The problem is you give several and then you are overwhelmed by mobs so that you can't even walk.

We took a tour to see the Garden of Gethsemene with its many very old olive trees.

We visited the Church of All Nations which is beautiful.

At the altar is a large marble stone where Jesus was to have prayed the Prayer of Agony.

We visited the Church of the Assumption containing the Tomb of the Virgin.

We saw the Wailing Wall where Jewish people were standing and crying to the wall.

We then went to Bethlehem and visited the place where Jesus was born.

We also saw the cave-like area where Jesus met with the disciples and taught them the Lord's Prayer.

We went to the Garden Tomb and the Road to Calvary at 5 a.m. on Easter Sunday.

The first service was given by the Lutheran Church—then at 5:30 another denomination had their service.

This went on all day long.

We attended a service by the Mission Covenant Church (Swedish) and the main church service was given at 8:30 by Dr. Ralph Earle representing the Nazarine Theological Seminary from the United States.

His message was so timely, stressing love instead of hate.

A choir of 25 blind girls from the School for Blind Girls sang, their voices so sweet.

This is traditional. They sing each year.

The setting was so beautiful. It is just outside the opening of the Tomb.

The birds sang, the air was balmy and warm and many flowers blooming.

We listened to four different services and then walked to the Mt. showing the Skull where it is thought the three crosses stood.

There is a difference of opinion as to where the exact spot is.

EDITORIAL

The dawn of a new year is an occasion for reflection on whither mankind is going and what its chances are of getting there.

The year that has just drawn to a close apparently contributed nothing really outstanding to human progress.

Yet, submerged somewhere in the flood of events, there may be some epoch-making breakthrough that will reveal its power in later years.

A disturbing feature of the times is the rate at which knowledge is being acquired and stored, and what little time there is to study and evaluate what we know.

One thing is certain.

Scant progress has been made in solving the world's two most pressing problems ending war and poverty.

The United Nations, a tribal council in which the nations of the earth might make a concerted attack on these problems has been deliberately hamstrung to the point of impotence.

Even the terrorizing presence of quantities of atomic explosives capable of exterminating the human race in a matters of minutes has done little to halt the arms race.

If mankind cannot tackle all its problems at once, it had better, in its own best interests, focus on its two most pressing problems—the abolition of war and the tight control of nuclear force and the ending of the human misery of poverty.

Of the two, the abolition of war might well, for the safety of mankind, be attacked and solved first.

Once war is abolished, the billions of dollars and other currency presently being pounded into the rat holes of the arms race, the space race and other military drains, may be channeled into vital, urgent, constructive projects.

These include a world-wide war on poverty to wipe out hunger, disease, undereducation and overpopulation.

Let's hope that 1969 will bring some glimmering of international wisdom aiding us to achieve these forward steps in human progress.

Then truly, 1969 will be a year to remember.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

In the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "God" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday are found familiar passages from the account of Daniel.

"Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee. . . .

"So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God."

Related passages from the denominational textbook will include the following: "Citizens of the world, accept the 'glorious liberty of the children of God,' and be free! This is your divine right."—Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.

Epiphany Sunday at Community Church

Celebrating Epiphany Sunday and the traditional "Burning of the Greens," members and friends of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula are invited to bring their Christmas trees for burning, carol singing and a brief prayer service to be held at the church on Carmel Valley Road at 5:30 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 5.

The event marks the traditional Twelfth Day of Christmas when the Three Wise Men were thought to have found the Infant Jesus after being guided by a star over the desert and mountains of the Holy Land.

The ceremonies will be followed by an all-church supper to which everyone is invited.

Mrs. Victor Harber, fellowship chairman, asks that all those planning to attend the supper call the church office, 624-8595, for reservations.

New Tree Saving Plan By State

Trees on lands purchased for freeway construction, which sometimes die from lack of care, will be saved for future roadside landscaping under a new State Department of Public Works plan.

Public Works Director James A. Moe called on the California Division of Highways to protect specimen trees from the time property is bought until construction is completed.

Many trees growing far enough from the roadbed do not create a traffic hazard, but instead, Moe said, constitute a natural resource to enhance not only future highways but communities as well.

Local landscaping firms or nurseries will care for large numbers of trees in a limited area, while landscape maintenance employees of the Division of Highways will do the job where only a few trees are involved.

Details also provide for uprooting and storing in tree banks valuable plants which originally grew in the path of future construction.

"The plan should provide substantial funds for construction which previously were designated for landscaping."

FOOTLIGHTS & FANCY

A large number of beautiful knits are available at Footlights & Fancy and all marked down from 20% to 45%. Cocktail dresses and formals will also be on sale. Originally selling for $72.00, this creation is now available at Footlights & Fancy for $48.00. Dolores at 5th, P.O. Box 5698, Carmel.

Exquisite crystal to embellish your home and also designed for a very practical purpose—to add to your dining room table. Beautiful hand-cut lead crystal salt and pepper shakers with tops of crystal, gold or silver plate. These lovely creations, featured at Viking Sails, range in price from $2.95 to $17.95 a pair.

Viking Sails also offers the highest grade of sainless steel flatware from $5.00 to $8.00 a five-piece setting, open stock. The shop features full crystal floor and table lamps, chandeliers and a rare collection of the beautiful porcelain art pieces of Senor Cappe.

First A Friend... Then A Host Insures Safe Holiday Season

As a host during any holiday season, you can help insure your guests safe arrival back home by following a basic, sensible and simple idea. Be First a friend . . . then a host, says the California State Automobile Association.

Today's considerate host will try to smoothe the way for the driver-guest who wants to keep his wits about him. Instead of urging the guests to have another alcoholic drink, offer an alternate for the road, such as coffee or food. This will provide the time necessary for the effects of alcohol to wear off. Coffee and food do nothing to sober a person up, it's the time that counts.

Other suggestions for the host, according to the CSAA are:

Always respect the wishes of guests who say, "No, thanks" to the offer of a final drink or who say they prefer coffee. Never press liquor of any kind on a person who is going to drive.

Try and make it part of your pattern to "close the bar" an hour or so before guests are expected to leave.

Suggest, tactfully, a car pool or taxi transportation if you know a guest has had too much to drink.

The CSAA urged that "this holiday season," do your part in cutting alcohol-involving accidents by being:

"First a friend . . . then a host."

Scholarships At The York School

The York School, an independent, non-profit school, is dedicated to the education of talented boys from all walks of life, all racial backgrounds, all areas of our society.

As far as funds permit, the school, located on the Salinas Highway, provides scholarship support to talented students who are not able to pay the costs of the school.

This year the school, affiliated with the Episcopal Diocese, supports 40 per cent of its student body with varying amounts of scholarship aid.

Early Action Urged For State Park Reservations

Choice dates and camping spots may go quickly when 1969 reservations become available for most State Park campgrounds on January 1, according to William Penn Mott Jr., director of State Parks.

Reservation forms are now available from State Park System units and at state office buildings in major cities throughout California. Forms and information may also be obtained by writing the State Department of Parks and Recreation, P.O. Box 2390, Sacramento 95811.

To make reservations, campers should submit the full camping fee plus a $1 reservation charge at the time of the application.

The parks will accept mailed applications starting January 1.

Reservations may not be made in person at the parks until after February 28, Mott noted. This is to give equal opportunity to all applicants, no matter how far they live from the park where they wish to camp.

Campers are urged to mail in the forms as early as possible, to insure availability of space on their preferred dated. Last year one park had all its Easter week camp spots reserved by January 7, and key weekends and popular vacation times were heavily in demand at many parks.

"Twelfth Night Picnic"

Picnic may seem an odd word, let alone pastime, this season with such wet weather. But on Sunday, Jan. 5, Twelfth Night is celebrated on Carmel Beach with brilliant Christmas tree-burning bonfires, and usually — picnics.

This traditional event ends the 12 jolly days of Christmas and to us is called Epiphany.

In Spain Jan. 6 is the Day of the Three Kings or Tres Magos.

In France it is the Fete des Trois Rois.

Whatever the appelation, it is a church festival to commemorate the visit of the Magi to Bethlehem.

In Spain and France the eve before Epiphany, children place their well-shined shoes on balconies or near the front door. When they awake, they expect to find gifts of toys and candy left by the Kings. Marzipan and nougat are great favorites.

In England, the wassail bowle is always served on tree-burning night. This cheering drink used to be made with warm ale and cream boiled with cloves. The topping was called "lambs' wool" in the 17th and 18th centuries.

We now give you a California version of

The Wassail Bowle

Six baked apples; ½ t. powdered cinnamon and nutmeg, each; 6 whole cloves; ½ cup sugar; 1 T. grated lemon rind; 2 bottles (4/5 qt., each) sherry or muscatel wine. Lastly add: 6 very fresh eggs, beaten separately.

Core the apples and peel down about one inch from stem end. Fill core cavities with sugar and bake in 350° F. oven until tender but still firm.

Add seasonings to the wine and heat in double boiler. Fold the beaten egg yolks into the stiffly beaten egg whites. Add the hot liquid gradually, beating vigorously to froth the mixture.

Place the baked apples in the bottom of the wassail bowle and pour the hot liquid over them. Serve in warm mugs. The apples are eaten with a spoon separately. Serves 12.

A separate bowle made with sweet cider is served to young children.

In France, galettes des rois (puff pastry cakes) are served with champagne for adults and hot chocolate for juniors. The traditional French cake contains tiny favors. Those finding a prize wear a gold paper crown and are named king and queen of the evening.

In Carmel you may order the authentic galettes from the Patisserie Boissiere. Or you might prefer making your own Americanized

Cake of Kings

One (1 lb., 1 oz.) pkg. pound cake mix; ¾ cup milk; 2 eggs; 1 (1 oz.) square unsweetened chocolate, melted; 1/3 cup chopped walnuts; 3 T. butter, melted; 2 t. milk; 1 t., each, ground cinnamon and instant coffee; speck of salt.

Prepare pound cake mix according to package directions, using ¾ cup milk and 2 eggs. Stir melted chocolate into 2 cups batter. Alternate spoonfuls of chocolate and vanilla batter in a buttered 9-inch loaf pan.

Run a fork through batter several times to "marble."

Bake in preheated 325° F. oven 1 hour.

Meanwhile, combine remaining ingredients. Remove cake from the oven. Spread with topping.

Return to oven. Continue baking for 15 minutes. Cool in pan on wire rack for 30 min. Very gently remove from pan. Makes 1 (9-inch) loaf.

So much for fancy party fare. And now let's talk about a beach picnic which can be transferred indoors. Just as much fun by the open fireplace and blazing logs perhaps.

But the ocean waves, salt air and bonfires are more dramatic and typically Carmel. The weather will make the difference. The food doesn't change.

Something filling and savory kept hot in a large-mouthed thermos will stick to one's ribs.

Canned condensed golden vegetable noodle soup joins chicken noodle and tomato beef noodle soups in local groceries. All are rich-tasting and hearty and so easy to prepare. Make your own good additions for variety, such as

Carmel Beach Soup

One can (10½ oz.) condensed golden vegetable noodle soup; 1 can (10½ oz.) condensed chicken noodle or tomato-beef noodle soups; 2 soup cans milk; 1 cup shredded process cheese; chopped parsley; oysterette crackers.

Combine all ingredients except parsley and crackers in deep saucepan. Heat without boiling until cheese is melted and soup thoroughly hot. Pour steaming into thermos which has been rinsed with hot water.

If desired, chili powder may be added to taste, that is if you are sure all have the same taste.

Otherwise, curry or chili powder may be added to mugs by those who desire a more zestful brew. Above amount makes 6 servings.

Chopped parsley and crackers are also added at serving.

Bring fruit to eat out-of-hand and the Spanish classical turrones.

A turron is that delicious blend of toasted almonds or pistachio, honey, sugar and egg whites. Although many varieties of this nougat are imported today, the basic recipe has not varied since the 14th century when it was introduced to Spain by the Moors.

For that vigorous young gang, prepare canned green pea soup with grating of cheese and shreds of boiled ham on top. Stir with carrot sticks and pretzels.

Or the virile will enjoy black bean soup served with a dollop of sour cream.

Then there's oyster stew and clam chowder, happily not limited to coast dwellers; the sea-flavored soups are available also to landlocked Americans, thanks to canned goods.

Or why not dish up a steaming bowl of cream of potato soup, garnished with salami curls or chips. Whatever the choice, be imaginative in how it is presented. Use colorful enamel mugs; bright paper napkins and interesting nibblers.

Cream of Potato de Luxe

Two cans (10½ oz., each) condensed cream of potato soup; 2 soup cans milk; 6 slices salami or canned Vienna sausages. Combine soup and milk. Heat, stirring often, but do not boil.

Cut salami in strips or slice franks into rounds. Add butter to cold skillet and heat, stirring until pieces brown. Serve in hot soup.

Toasted garlic-flavored hard rolls are wrapped, while hot, in foil for individual munching at beach or sitting on cushions in front of the home hearth.

Or you might like to prepare one or the other of these go-alongs, wrap them in foil, and enjoy with the soup.

Bean Salad Sandwich

One can bean with bacon soup; 2 T. water; 1 cup diced canned luncheon meat or bologna; ¼ cup chopped green pepper; ¼ cup ketchup; ¼ cup sliced stuffed or chopped ripe olives; 2 T. minced onion; dash of oregano; mustard and horseradish to taste; 6 hamburger rolls, split and toasted; lettuce.

Combine all ingredients except rolls. Arrange lettuce on rolls, top with mixture, then with roll. Wrap in foil. Serves 6.

Coney Islands

Eight frankfurters, split lengthwise; 2 T. butter; water; 2 cans chili beef soup; 8 frankfurter rolls, split and toasted; chopped onion; shredded cheese; minced pickles. Serves 8. Wrap in foil while still hot.

If picnic takes place on the beach, come back home after the bonfires are put out, and serve the wassail bowle and cake in front of your own fireplace. A special way to remember the Three Kings in any language.

'Australia' To Open Explorerama 1969 Series At Sunset Jan. 10

The Explorers Club of San Francisco has announced its 1969 Explorerama season of professionally produced feature-length, color travel and adventure films.

The popular series will be presented again this year at the Sunset Auditorium, 8th and San Carlos Streets in Carmel.

The season will consist of five fims each with in-person narration by its photographer. All of the films are accompanied by stereophonic background and sound effects.

Well-known travel-adventure film producer Nicol Smith will narrate his award winning film "Australia" at 8:15 p.m. Friday, Jan. 10 as the opening event of the new season.

Australia is the world's smallest continent or its largest island. It contains within its 3,000,000 square miles some of the most unusual and remarkable varieties of scenic wonders found anywhere in the world.

Highlights of the color film includes views of the city of Sydney with its famed Harbor Bridge, the Royal Sydney Show, surf life-saving carnival, the capital city of Canberra, Tasmania, the festivals and horse races at Melbourne, Healsville Sanctuary with humorous views of kangaroos, emus, koala bears and the platypus; a journey to the "Outback" to visit a small ranch and the blue-black aborigines. A journey to Darwin and a 2,000-square-mile filming safari in search of the wild water buffalo and the Great Barrier Reef with exciting underwater photography of 500-lb. clams.

Nicol Smith spent six months in Australia during the production of this film. It was a journey that covered 12,000 miles by a plane and 7,000 by car. The end result is one of the most exciting travel-adventure films ever produced.

Future progrgams will include "The People of Japan" with Gene Wiancko, Saturday, Jan. 25; "Portraits of Spain" with Curtis Nagel, Friday, Feb. 21; "The Blue Danube" with Phil Walker on Mar. 22. This unusual film follows the Danube River as it flows through West Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Rumania. The final program of this series will be "I Love Mexico" with Thayer Soule on Apr. 11.

Reserved seat series tickets are now available at the Central Box Office in Carmel, phone: 624-6739 and at Abinante Music Store, Monterey, phone 372-5893.

'Roar of Greasepaint, Smell of Crowd' Hit Opening at Circle Theater

By Charles Strosnider

It had the allegorical touch of A Midsummer Night's Dream.

You perceive that a "game" is in prograss—which in itself is the end and all of life.

The pompous and arrogant buffoon, Sir, was so perfectly portrayed by Milton Hayes that one could almost feel the Devil's Mephistophelic presence in his sadistic toying with, and punishment of, Cocky.

Cocky, beautifully played by Rodney Allison, was really the most difficult part with the demand of portraying many changes of mood and spirit, from groveling servility, to hopes and dreams, to crashing disappointments, to awakening understanding and faith in himself to—"What was the meaning of the final curtain?"

The Kid, Leslye Weinfield, and the Seven Urchins really polished the show and gave it a bounce. They sang extremely well, providing a much-needed musical accompaniment. Their dancing and the warm abandon in which they threw themselves into the part was the spirit of youth and long, long hours of practice under their choreographer, Dale Lefler.

Dale Giggs as The Negro had the best voice of the soloists and had a big hand from the SRO audience.

His advent into the play brought a new look at "The Game" and caused some searching questioning by Cocky.

Susann Newell played The Girl and Timothy Gleason The Bully.

The first act can be capsulized in Cocky's song, The Joker, when he finally realizes what a fool, a pawn and worthless creature he is.

The dancing by Sir and Cocky in "Where Would You Be Without Me" and by Sir, The Girl and the Urchins in "Look At That Face" was great.

The second act hits its high in the song by Cocky, "My Way," where he becomes a man and sees things clearly for the first time; and the song, "Who Can I Turn To," by Sir.

This parody on life is quite entertaining and was most competently directed by Zelma Weinfield, who took a very difficult vehicle and turned it into a warm, semi-tragic, half-humorous look at the life of most of us seen through the eyes of the Master of Clowns watching our pasage across the stage of life.

Movie Review

Great Catherine — Jeanne Moreau as Catherine (amorous empress) and Peter O'Tool (amorous target of amorous empress) as an English diplomat. Zero Mostel and Jack Hawkins also star.

Secret Life of an American Wife—Samo-samo "Guide to the Married Man," only in reverse. Walter Mathau stars in both. Romantic mix ups in Hollywood.

The Boston Strangler — A picture of somber and realistic mood. Fonda coordinates the search for the strangler. George Kennedy is the relentless detective, and Tony Curtis in a plastic nose is the killer.

The Party—Peter Sellers and director Blake Edwards in their third effort. Sellers is a bumbling actor invited to a Hollywood party. Comedy depends on his bumbling presence.

The Thomas Crown Affair—Steve McQueen is wealthy and bored. Masterminds a banq robbery. Falls in love with investigator Faye Dunaway of the insurance blodhound. Amusing and imaginative.

2001: A Space Odyssey — Far reaches of space explored in this splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction production. Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood. Wonderful entertainment.

The Horse in the Gray Flannel Suit — Walt Disney comedy about a splendid gray horse that becomes a contestant in the Washington International Horse Show. Great scenes of this famous equine spectacle.

Boating Tips by CG

Safety instruction for boatmen, comparable to "Driver Education," is available through the Coast Guard, according to its top officer in the Pacific, Rear Admiral Chester R. Bender.

The admiral urged western boat enthusiasts to use the winter months to prepare for next season's boating.

Pointing out that more than a million new boaters are expected this year, he stated that beginners are the most likely ones to experience accidents.

The Coast Guard says even pros can find helpful ideas in pamphlets "Pleasure Craft" (CG-290), "Ventilation Systems" (CG-395), and a leaflet, "Overloading and Improper Loading," available from the 12th Coast Guard District Public Information Office, 630 Sansome St., San Francisco 94126.

New 'Wonderful World of Golf' Format for Eighth Season

The Emmy-winning golf show, "Shell's Wonderful World of Golf," returns to the NBC television network on Saturday, Jan. 4 in a new format featuring an international elimination tournament.

The show's eighth consecutive season will have 21 international professional golfers competing for $179,000 in prize money on colorful courses in Asia, Africa and North America. This compares with $110,000 last year.

The tournament will be played in the first nine televised shows with 18 male pros competing for prizes totaling $164,000. Three women close out the series March 9 in a match played in Bangkok, Thailand.

On Jan. 4 the first of six preliminary matches will have Billy Casper, Gene Littler and Ben Arda, the leading Filipino pro, competing at the Manila Golf and Country Club.

Five additional preliminary matches will be aired on successive Saturdays, followed by two semifinal and one final match.

Prizes of $7,000, $5,000 and $3,000 will be awarded for first, second and third places in the preliminary rounds. Semifinal prizes total $10,000, $7,000 and $5,000. The tournament winner will receive $20,000, and $10,000 will be given to the loser.

American pros include Arnald Palmer, Gay Brewer, Juan "Chi Chi" Rodriguez, Gene Littler, Doug Sanders, Charles Sifford, Dan Sikes, Al Geiberger, Frank Beard, Julius Boros, Gardner Dickinson, Bert Yancey and this year's big money winner, Billy Casper.

The foreign pros include Ben Arda, British Open Champion Roberto DiVicenzo of Argentina and Britain's Peter Alliss, Dave Thomas and Tony Jacklin.

The women's match at Bangkok features Sandra Haynie, Carol Mann and Kathy Whitworth.

Jimmy Demaret, one of golf's all-time greats, returns as commentator of the play, while Gene Sarazan joins the show for his eighth consecutive year in the new role of TV host.

HOW TO SOLVE
GOLF PROBLEMS

JIMMY DEMARET...
NARRATOR "SWWG" *

TAKING IT FROM THE TOP

From the top of the backswing, many average golfers strike at the ball as though they were casting a fishing rod. The right shoulder stays high and the wrists uncock prematurely, dissipating power before the clubhead has reached the hitting area.

This tendency can be corrected by returning the right elbow to the side and lowering the right shoulder under the chin on the downswing. Pulling the club straight down, as though you were pulling a window shade by its string, will also help preserve clubhead speed until impact.

Maintain the wrists in a cocked position for a powerful, delayed hitting action.

Business slows down until full moon on 3rd, then doubles. Second week favors study of your "inner life," allow time to relax. New moon on 18th favors fields of artistic careers. Last week good time for long trips and emotional happenings. Lucky number 5.

Cancer (June 22-July 22)

Full moon on 3rd could bring glamorous adventures to stir your emotions. Be sure to put mind-over-matter in business dealings with opposite sex especially on 6th or 7th. Romantic involvement still persists until 18th. Your lucky number is 7.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 23)

Your home may be center for social gatherings, which can bring you added business around the 15th. Home life on better keel. Watch stimulating romantic adventure though, with fascinating new associate. Your lucky number is 9.

Virgo (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)

The 7th could be very important day, all keyed up. Guard against temper, though. By the 15th attractive offer for fruits of your artistic creations. Guard against arguments with relatives or partners on 27th. Be kind, though it irks you. Lucky number 1.

Libra (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

Beware of speculation in investments. Costly New Year's Day but things started then may bring changes in your personal life. Romance could develop after 4th. New moon will help your finances by discovery of hidden resources or talent. Lucky number 1.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

Watch carefully that some relative doesn't create an argument. Avoid bitterness. Forgive, but be wary. Try to start all new projects before the 21st. Meditate and study spiritual growth. Try to catch up all loose ends of the past year. Lucky number 3.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

Emotional home life could become hectic on 7th. Some gain you make will arouse some opposition. Take advantage of every opportunity though, and try to change your inner attitude to handle obstacles as they arise. Lucky number 3.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 20)

Beware of being taken-in by glamorous people. You may become disenchanted with a new friend. Be careful if you travel. Delays are indicated. Guard against wintry colds. Brief encounter with friend proves costly. Lucky number 5.

Visiting Uncle Paints, Writes Epigrams

A. J. Jackson of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting his niece, Mrs. Ken Brown, wife of the Carmel city councilman, police commissioner and owner of the Village Inn.

A decorator by vocation, Jackson shares his main hobby with Mrs. Brown, oil painting. A second hobby of the visitor is originating epigrams on the current scene.

The "Gentle Jester" paragraphs below are the work of Jackson.

Riding Club Moves

About 20 riders left Sue Sally Hale's, behind the old polo fields across from San Jose Beach the other day, to follow the stream up to their new stables and home to be called Sleepy Hollow Riding and Polo Club.

It will be located off Robinson Rd., the former Rody Holt ranch, where they will have two polo fields at their disposal.

No longer will "hippies" have to be chased off or their fences chopped up for fire wood at the beach as happened at the former polo fields.

First polo game is scheduled in about three weeks.

BEFORE THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

Application
No. 50779

Application of PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY for authority, among other things, to increase its rates and charges for gas service, (Gas)

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY hereby gives notice that in Application No. 50779 filed with the California Public Utilities Commission on December 27, 1968, it has requested authorization to increase its rates and charges for gas service.

The proposed rates include an offset charge, to be effective March 7, 1969, intended to offset the increased costs caused by (a) an increase in the cost of natural gas that is purchased by PGandE from the El Paso Natural Gas Company and (b) the federal income tax surcharge. The offset charge will be subject in part to refund if the cost of El Paso gas is reduced and will be subject to reduction or termination if the cost of gas from El Paso or the tax surcharge are reduced or terminated. In a second phase of the proceeding, it is proposed that the Company's natural gas rates be further changed to compensate the Company for other increased costs related to its gas operations and to permit its Gas Department to earn a fair and reasonable return. Certain rate zone changes to reflect changes in population and customer densities are also proposed. The proposed rate increases will constitute an average increase, based on total operating revenues of approximately 7.4% over presently effective rates for gas service. The proposed increase to domestic customers will average $1.05 per month over present rates.

A copy of the application and related exhibits may be examined at the offices of the California Public Utilities Commission, State Building, San Francisco, at PGandE's General Office, 245 Market Street, San Francisco, California 94106, Room 832, and at each of PGandE's thirteen Division Offices.

This notice is given in accordance with the requirements of Rule 24 of the revised Rules of Practice and Procedure of the California Public Utilities Commission.

Lines from Lois

To an Individualist with Flair and Imagination:

Greetings! Are you hoping to find that fascinating little house created with you in mind in 1969? Could you use a brook running through your living room in which sunshine by day and firelight by night are reflected? Would you like circular stone walls, rustic beams, incense cedar paneling, clerestory windows, floor-to-ceiling glass panels and jalousies, quarry tile? How about an elevated electric-red Swedish fireplace?

Would one very interesting bedroom with a very interesting bath (sunken tub) plus a 16x13 skylighted studio or second bedroom, and a complete photographic darkroom, appeal to you? Built-in bookcases and hi-fi, entry gallery along a stone wall . . . well, just lots and lots of unusual features. The price is $37,500. It has a fabulous view of the lovely Santa Lucia mountains—unobstructable—and it's just a couple of blocks from the center of shopping in Carmel Valley Village (tho as secluded as though it were miles away). Couldn't we just show you? It's such a pleasure!

ARTISTIC EMBLEM—Detail of the hand-carved redwood emblem at Al Hood's Shell-by-the-Sea service station at San Carlos and 5th in Carmel. Patience, imagination and solid planning has made this Shell station one of the commercial show places in the entire Monterey area.

Carmel 'Shell-by-the-Sea' Example of Imagination

As the City Fathers of Carmel-by-the-Sea struggle against the encroachment of commercial eyesores, at least one Carmel business has proven that commercial structures can be architecturally pleasing as well as functional.

Al Hood's Shell station on San Carlos is an example of what planning and imagination and patience can do to preserve the flavor of the city in which it was built.

Designed by architects Burde, Shaw and Associates, Hood's Shell station has been the recipient of many awards for the building that makes up the station, and the outstanding landscaping surrounding the stucture.

In 1967, the Shell installation was named "Miss Service Station of the Year" by a statewide survey of the California Landscape Contractors Association.

Owner Al Hood constantly receives letters praising him for his appreciation of beauty and for maintaining the artistic flavor of Carmel.

The greatest and most important accolades come from the citizens of Carmel themselves, who are aesthetically refreshed by the existence of the station.

And as a further tribute, related architecture has shown a decided improvement since the Shell station was built.

Imitation—the sincerest form of flattery, and all that.

An Ad in the Pine Cone is a Better Value

'Guys and Dolls'

has a true musical comedy voice that projects well.

Eliane Yates as Sarah Brown, the Salvation Army lass, has a warm, pleasing presence that comes across the stage in a thoroughly professional manner.

Saxon Rawlings as Nathan Detroit, who operates the "Oldest Established Permanent Floating Crap Game in New York" turns in a top performance as the tinhorn gambler dodging the martial pursuit of Miss Adelaide, to whom he has been engaged for 14 years.

And where did they get Luann Brown, who plays the part of Miss Adelaide, she of the perpetual cold brought on by her allergy to Nathan Detroit?

I suppose I could drag out all the superlatives to describe her performance, but I won't. The twitching of her nose, the brassy, accented voice when she was belting out her numbers with the chorus, and the plaintive voice that comes out when she sings "Adelaide's Lament" were absolutely startling in contrast.

I just liked the whole production. If I have to point the finger-bone of criticism—and after all, nothing's perfect—I would have to say that occasionally the piano came on a little too strong and you had to strain to hear the singers.

Otherwise, a perfect evening. I refuse to talk about the dinner, since I'm on a diet and I'd have to go get something to eat if I recalled the luscious cut of rare roast beef the Studio Restaurant served me.

If you're tempted to attend for dinner and the show, please make reservations or you'll be disappointed. That goes for the dinner only and the show only.

The place is mobbed every night.
